FROM THE PRESIDENT:

Dear NUTS,

Last months meeting on Camp Floyd was very interesting. We would like to thank Gene Sessions for speaking. It was great to see such a large turnout of club members as well.

Last month we also had our first club outing of the year to Fish Springs. It was a fun trip despite the over abundance of biting gnats. I am aware of several coins that were found along with some interesting artifacts. For those unable to attend hopefully we will see you at another trip this year.

This month we will have our annual club trip to the old mining town of Frisco over the Memorial Day weekend. This is a great trip and almost every year some very nice finds are made, once a gold piece was even found. Unfortunately I will be unable to attend this year, but I wish everyone the best of luck.

The NUTS CLUB COIN AND TOKEN SHOW is coming up in June. We will need volunteers to help with the show, manning the hospitality table, set up, clean up etc. Please let Bob Campbell or myself know if you can help out.

Our speaker for this month is Paul Badali. He will be talking on gold prospecting and recreational mining. I am sure that after listening to Paul you will believe there is still gold in them thar hills.

Happy hunting!

Bill Brown

FRISCO, UTAH

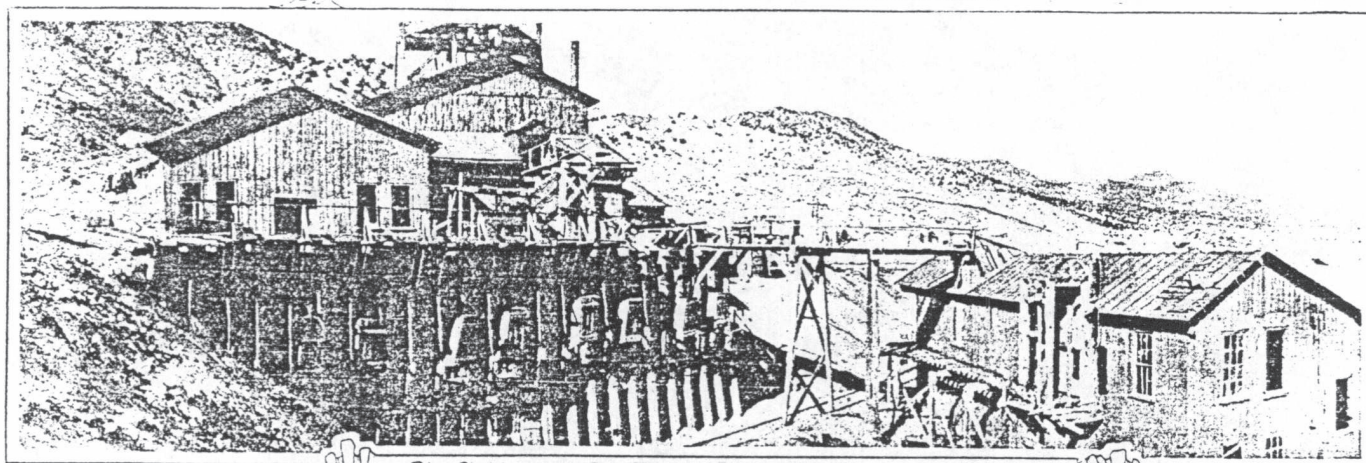

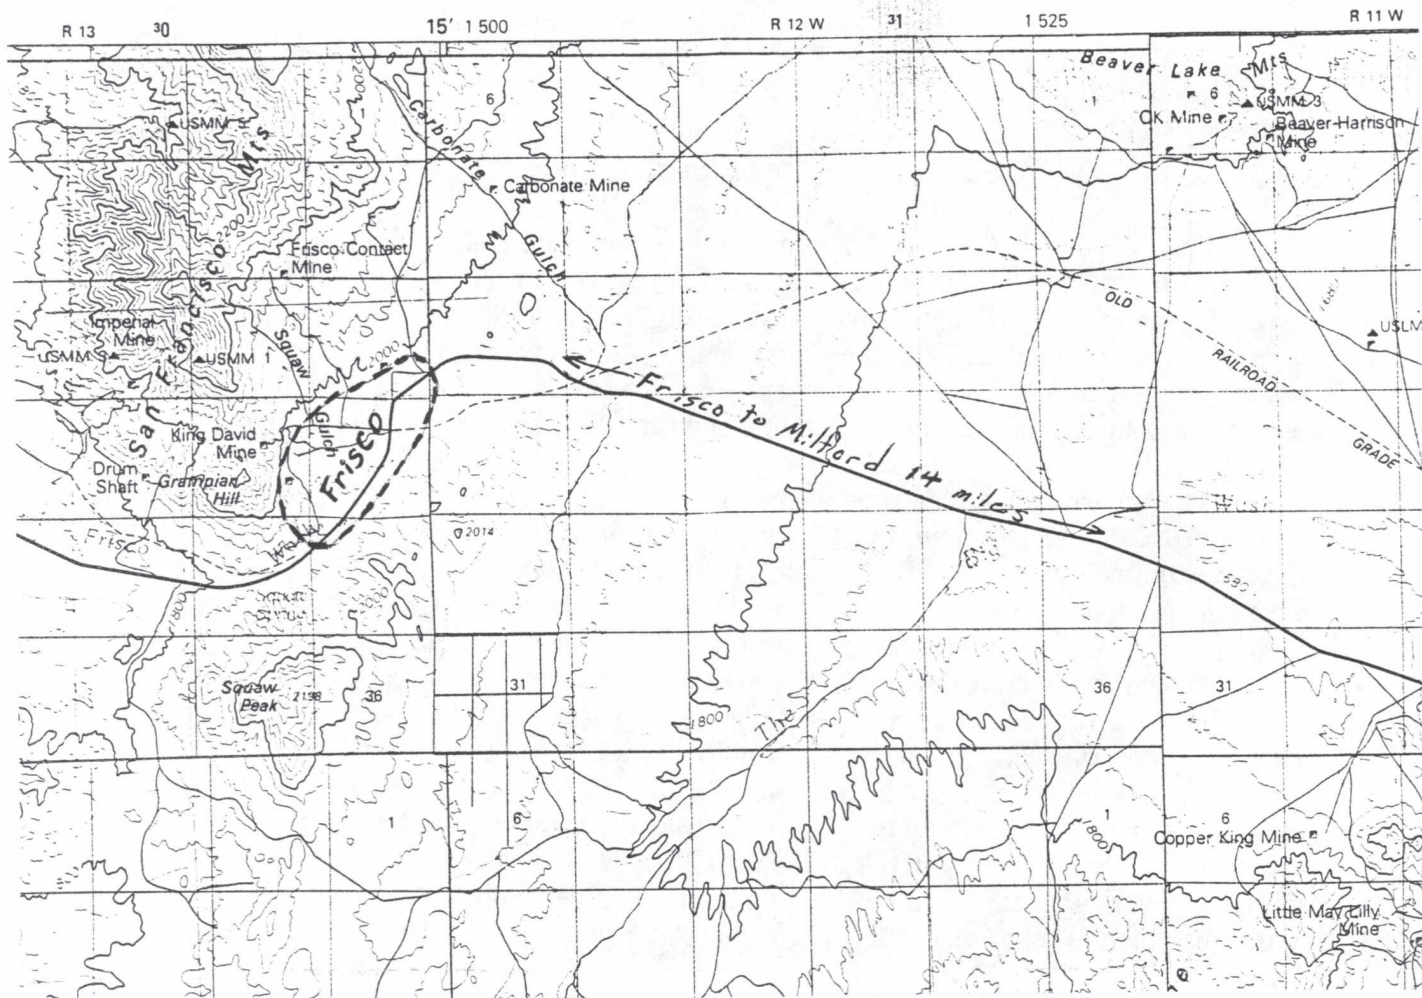

Frisco is one of the most important mining camps in Utah, and also through out the entire West. As the story goes back in 1875 a couple of miners were resting by a curious looking ledge after an exhausting day of searching for gold. They became intrigued with the horn shape of this ledge, and further investigation discovered ore which assayed very high in silver. They staked their claim, sank a shaft, and began to mine the ore. Not to long after they decided to sell their claim for $25,000 and ran off to the nearest saloon laughing all the way.

The new owners called it the Horn Silver mine and over the years realized millions of dollars of profit. Frisco grew rapidly bringing with it the normal crowd of people. Miners, drifters, criminals, merchants, and red light ladies were commonplace. Due to the lack of water the town needed 23 saloons to wash down the dust. Shootings and other criminal activity were a common occurence, truely a wild west town. Finally a tough lawman from Pioche showed up and set down the law; get out or get shot.

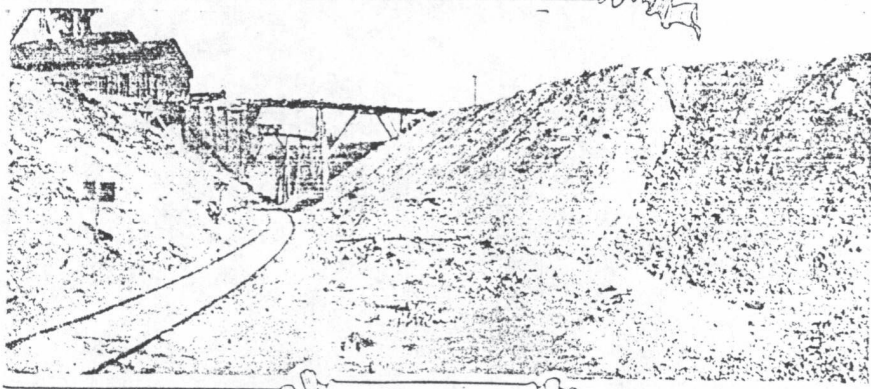

In the early 1880's frisco saw a booming population of some 6000 residents. The Utah Southern Railroad built an extension to Milford and Frisco. When it appeared the prospecting would never end the Horn Silver mine collapsed with a thunderous roar that shattered windows as far away as Milford. It was the beginning of the end for Frisco, but the town managed to get by until the early 1930's. Now only some foundations and a couple of rusted buildings mark the site of this wild west mining camp. Please come and join us to experience the adventure that was Frisco. Maybe if you are lucky you will uncover some "token" of the past, and be able to feel the history which is Frisco! We hope to see you there on Memorial Day weekend.
